FEATURES

What the workspace actually includes

Built for support agents: conversations, tickets, customers, knowledge, and retrieval-augmented assistance in one workspace-scoped product.

AI assistance

Generate knowledge-grounded Gemini answers and suggested replies. Agents review every draft before anything is sent.

- RAG-powered answers
- Suggested replies
- Source citations

Knowledge Base

Write, publish, and embed support documents. Semantic search retrieves the right chunks for agents and the AI assistant.

- CRUD and publishing
- Chroma embeddings
- Published-only retrieval

Conversations

Keep customer threads in one inbox. Create conversations, send replies, and update status as work moves forward.

- Messages and status
- AI-assisted drafts
- Workspace-scoped inbox

Tickets

Track follow-up work with status, priority, and assignment to active workspace teammates.

- Lifecycle and assignment
- Customer required
- Optional conversation link

Customers

Maintain a workspace customer directory and see related conversations and tickets in one place.

- Searchable directory
- Related threads
- Related tickets

Team and workspace

Switch workspaces, isolate data by workspace, and manage a team directory with OWNER, ADMIN, and AGENT roles.

- Workspace data isolation
- Role-based management
- Directory for assignment, not login

HOW IT WORKS

From knowledge to a reviewed reply

Four steps that match the product you can use today — no extra channels or billing required.

IN PRACTICE

How agents use SupportFlow

Typical workflows in the current workspace — not customer case studies or CSAT results.

Draft with knowledge

Open a conversation, generate a suggested reply from published documents, then edit and send it yourself.

 Requires published knowledge

Keep answers grounded

Ask the AI assistant a policy question. It retrieves matching chunks and answers only from that context.

 Requires published knowledge

Find the right doc

Publish FAQs and SOPs, then use semantic search when you need the exact passage — not a guess.

 Requires published knowledge

FAQ

Straight answers about this version

What the workspace does today — and what it does not claim to do.

How does the AI use my knowledge?

Does the AI send replies to customers automatically?

Who can see my conversations and documents?

Is there a public customer chat widget?

Are tickets, team, and billing included?

An AI-powered customer support workspace for conversations, knowledge, and agent-assisted replies.
